Classroom Stuff

- Go to the School City of Hobart website. Print off the homework page.
- Thank you very much for all the ISTEP donations. We really enjoyed the beverages you provided. I know it's not cheap filling up thirty-one kids, but I really appreciate you taking the time and the money to provide for our classroom.
- Give a big round of applause to Marc and Riley! They will be our representatives in the district-wide spelling bee! Yahoo!
- The Unit 5 Social Studies test is Monday, March 16.

Gabby is a delightful, bright young lady. She's fun to be around, and she can easily bring a smile to your face. She's a great conversationalist and is willing to talk about anything. She's like the little red wagon you had when you were growing up. You want to take her wherever you go. Did you know she also has a great work ethic and does very well in school? Well, now you do. If you need a little extra help in any area of life, I'm pretty sure you need a Gabby ... I just don't think she for sale.

Thanks, Gabby.

Yahoo! Antonio is the new king!

Brandon, the old king, was dethroned this week in a very unpeaceful way.

Brandon came prancing in with what appeared to be a tooth fairy costume along with his crown and wand. This caught us all a little off guard. Then he whispered, "Hello, my dear, little children and wonderful classmates. I hear some of you have lost some teeth, and I'm here to deliver your reward for those precious little teeth."

This was definitely odd and getting stranger by the second. We all looked at each other baffled because no one had lost any teeth.

Then, Dylan piped up. "Excuse me, uh, Mr. Tooth Fairy. None of us has lost a tooth."

Brandon replied sweetly, "Oh don't be silly. Come here and I'll show you what I've got." Dylan walked toward Brandon, the tooth fairy.

Bad idea.

Apparently, that "wand" Brandon was holding was more like a miniature bat. He nodded politely at Dylan and then took the bat and clonked him on the cheek. Sure enough, out came some teeth. After that horrific sight, Brandon pulled out a few quarters and replied, "Here you go, Sweet, Little Boy. Three quarters just for you. I just knew you had lost some teeth."

Next, Brandon's little smile turned into a cunning, evil grin. Then he said in a very un-tooth-fairy-like way "Anyone else need some quarters?!"

Complete and utter panic filled the room. Next thing you know, we were all running and screaming while Brandon was chasing us around the room.

A few seconds later, Antonio spoke up and said, "Wait a second! There's 30 of us and 1 of him! Get Him!" So we all gang-tackled Brandon and scrambled for the crown. Finally, Antonio emerged with the crown.

BUT, Dylan held up the tooth-fairy costume and screamed, "It's mine! I got it everybody. I got it! It's all mine!"

...Awkward.
