

Do you hate it when charging cords become lodged and lost in the abyss of the area between the wall and your bed? Or how about when your cords are tangled and you have no time to unravel that mess? With the "Monkey Grip," these everyday problems can be resolved in no time.

The Monkey Grip is equipped with three different sized slots that can hold either a Samsung, Apple, or a universal sized charging cord. Above the slots, there is a curve to the product that serves as a holder for your device, that rests on the wall, so it cannot be misplaced. Our goal is to make the Monkey Grip with an adhesive back that can cling onto most surfaces without defacing anything.

The device can rest on the angle created between the product and the wall while charging

Monkey Grip is equipped with three different sized cables; one for a Samsung cord, another for an Apple cord, and a universal slot.

The Monkey Grip mounts to any surface.

The Monkey Grip is compact but effective and reliable.
